

Career destinations

BSC(Hons) Maritime Business

Percentage of leavers in known destinations (2009)

Examples of employment obtained by leavers (2009)

| Job title | Employer |
|------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Marketing Logistics Manager | Megah Transport- Malaysia |
| Pricing Co-ordinator | Mearsk |
| Freight Trader | Chevron |
| Ship Personnel Officer | Berhard Schulte Ship Management |
| Ships Charterer | Anchor Marine Transport |
| Trainee Commercial Assistant | Gearbulk |

Knowledge and skills

Maritime business deals with the operational, commercial, financial and legal aspects of international shipping, and its related industries. Graduates gain extensive knowledge on shipping topics such as maritime trade, navigation, transport operations, and port management. Graduates also develop skills in problem solving, working with people, communication, research, IT and team working. With strong industry links and opportunities for work placements, graduates are well equipped to enter a variety of roles in the maritime industry, both in the UK and internationally.

Professional accreditation

This course is validated by the Institute of Chartered Shipbrokers.

Career opportunities

Shipping is a vast international industry, offering exciting and varied opportunities, as seen by looking at the variety of posts entered by graduates of recent courses. About 90% of world trade is carried by the international shipping industry. With excellent industry links, graduates of maritime business are well placed to apply for roles in areas such as ship management, ship broking and chartering, insurance, marine law, and ship finance.