

Career destinations

BA (Hons) Screenwriting

Percentages of leavers in known destinations (2009)

Knowledge and skills

Graduates have extensive experience of writing for a number of major film and television formats coupled with understanding of the industry and how screenwriters operate within it. They assess their work critically, work creatively and flexibly, are able to research projects and can manage their time.

Career opportunities

In addition to employment as a screenwriter, graduates have the skills and knowledge to work in related roles such as research, editing and production. This is a very competitive area of work and it can be helpful to take advantage of opportunities for relevant experience and networking.

The high level communication skills acquired and skills in working with other professionals are highly valued in other career areas such as marketing, advertising, public relations, publishing, broadcasting and journalism.